[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT 24

Discipline Vanishing at Paris

LONDON Sept 23 - Reports from Chateau Thierry France via Berlin say that discipline is vanishing at Paris The soldiers are mutinous and in some cases have shot their officers

TOURS Sept 2? Mails arrive here spasmodically from Paris

Last Monday's Battle—Tours—Strasbourg

LONDON Sept 23 The dispatch sent out to day about a battle near Paris was simply another report of Monday's battle A telegram from Berlin at 10 o clock this evening says that the capture of Tours has just been announced at the Royal Opera but the news is not official

It is reported that the Theatre at Strasbourg was set on fire by shells and 200 persons who had taken refuge in the building mostly women and children were burned to death also that a mob was pillaging the city The news is not confirmed

Garibaldi.

FLORENCE, Sept 24 —Garibaldi is still a prisoner but unmolested

General Dispatches

LONDON Sept 23 —It is reported that there is to be a change in the British Admiralty Mr Childers the first Lord of the Board, is about to retire, on account of ill health, and will be succeeded by Lord North or Lord Sanford

The Bureau of France has left Tours for Bordeaux

There are rumors of an engagement near Paris, where, however, is not stated

The enemy occupy all the heights overlooking the Seine from Villeneuve to Montree Nothing now prevents them from crossing the Seine rebuilding bridges, and bombarding the city from the heights of Toulrecout and even Maur, since the fire from the ramparts is obstructed by buildings and trees

Trochu was at Seaves this morning The bridge there and at Grand Jolet were blown up by his orders

The Prefect of Rouen has published a notification contradicting the statement that the Prussians have invaded Normandy

Prussian Demands.

TOURS Sept 24 —The following important information has just been made public Count Bismarck demands as preliminary conditions of peace that all fortresses in the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine be delivered over to Prussia, as well as Fort Dumont at the walls of Paris The Provisional Government considers these conditions absolutely inadmissible and will immediately address a proclamation to the people of the nation, as well as to the embassadors of foreign countries exposing the situation and indicating new means to be taken for national defence In view of such terms it is proposed that one of the ministers will in form, postpone the election for members of the Constitutional Assembly

It was erroneously reported yesterday that the engagement around Paris resulted in French reverses The French had the advantage in every battle yesterday

One hundred and forty Uhlans entered Etampes and demanded money and arms The Mayor refused unless the force was large enough to overpower him The Prussians left and have not appeared there since

Capture of Toul

BERLIN Sept 24 —Toul was captured by the Prussians at sunset on Friday

Later from Paris

LONDON Sept 24 —Dispatches from near Paris state that this morning rifle firing and cannonading were heard going on at Paris. It was distinctly observed from the heights that a conflict was in progress but no details There is great danger of revolutionary outbreaking in Paris involving another change of government The Reds are furious against the present leaders A dispatch from Toul says yesterday the town was taken by storm by the Prussians after a determined resistance The bombardment was continued several days causing great damage and destroying the principal buildings The storming party advanced and afterwards the Prussians carried it by storm

Bazaine Offers to Capitulate.

BRUSSELS Sept 24—Noon —Bazaine has offered to capitulate at Metz on the conditions that he be allowed to take his baggage and arms and engage not to take up arms for three months

France will not Accept Conditions Offered by Germany

TOURS Sept 24 —The Ministry has issued a proclamation to the people stating that France will rather bury herself beneath her own ruins than accept the insolent conditions of Germany

A dispatch from Tours announces that there are now 180 000 German soldiers in the country surrounding Nantes The red flag is still flying at Lyons, and will remain until after the Constitutional Assembly

General Cambriel is appointed to command the army of Bourges Marseilles and Toulon are preparing for a vigorous defense

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK Sept 24 —An open avowal of the Austrian Prussian alliance for combined action is understood

RHEIMS Sept 22 —Two small villages between Mezieres and Eponald, have been burned by the Prussians The villages are entirely destroyed The Prussians have bombarded Mentes la Ville

A letter from Paris on the evening of the 20th says there is great danger of a revolutionary outbreak there involving another change of government The Reds are furious against the present leaders and express themselves loudly and defiantly against its representative authority The evident disposition is to seize the Hotel de Ville as the initial step of the rebellious programme Resistance to their plan will be difficult It is impossible to say what will be the effect of their obtaining control of the Government, but the people dread pillage and assassination An armistice now would save the lives and property of thousands of citizens

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 24 —Terrance Doyle fell from a scaffolding at the rolling mills on the Potrero this afternoon a distance of over fifty feet crushing his shoulder He is not expected to live

The fishermen's strike ended to-day

A fire on Brannan street this afternoon destroyed several houses

A California Indian girl a servant with a family on Lombard street gave birth to a male child last evening This morning while alone a short time she cut the child's throat nearly severing its head from its body She is said to be insane

A Marchebout an upholsterer fell from a ladder at the Mechanic's Pavilion this morning and broke his ankle He was engaged in decorating the building for the French Fair

Ten French gentlemen at the French Fair to day while taking lunch made up a purse of $500 for the Catholic and Protestant Orphan Asylums. They also subscribed $ ... for the French Government to aid in carrying on the war

A class of ... students ... being examined at Oakland for admission ... the State University

Sixteen vessels have been loaded with wheat at Vallejo and seven at Oakland since July 1st

Agricultural Park Races

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 24 —In the running race at the Agricultural Park to day, between Clara Hastings Marnie Hall and ... Clara Hastings won the first heat in 1 ... 5 ... won the second heat and Clara Hastings the third and last heat The race was won by her time 1 ... 4 and ...

In the trotting race between ... and ... but two heats were ... darkness ... the race was postponed until Monday ... won two heats

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES

FOLSOM Sept 24 —Between six and seven o clock last night in Kanaka Valley, Eldorado county Nathaniel Robbins was shot and killed by Barnett Houseman The difficulty arose from a land dispute.

SAN DIEGO Sept 24 —In the County Court to day the following parties were sentenced for robbery J Harrington and Henry Rankins eight years each George I wory James Kelly and James Morris five years each and Edward Haley three years in the State prison

ALLEGHANY, Sept 24 —Wells, Fargo & Co established an agency here to-day

LOS ANGELES Sept 24 Louis Mesmer announces himself as a candidate for Mayor

The Democratic Club make their regular nominations to night

SAN JUAN SOUTH, Sept 24 The dead body of Hermenegildo Galindo a native of California was found this morning shot The murderer is not known It is supposed he walked a considerable distance with the victim before he shot him The body was discovered on the road or lane leading to Hollister

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA Sept 24 —This morning Jack Brady in attempting to shoot Ed Cavenaugh the ball missed him and inflicted a wound in Brady's own hand

Two men supposed to be the party who robbed Mr and Mrs Crane at their residence near Dayton last Monday afternoon were arrested last evening here.

After midnight last night there was quite a brilliant display of aurora borealis visible in the northeast

W F & Co shipped to night 36 bars of bullion valued at $10 025 2

Weather cool and pleasant

W F & Co ship to night from Manhattan Company seven bars, valued at $10 241 67 and weighing 614 lbs

The Democrats are having lively times to day with their primaries.

Reports from Belmont, Nye county, give encouraging accounts of the mining operations in that region

RENO, Sept 24 —Allen White had his collar bone fractured to day while engaged in hoisting hay into a barn

The railroad excursionists passed here at 2 o clock to day

UTAH

SALT LAKE Sept 24 —A Provo City telegram says a party of forty United States soldiers from Camp Rawlins became disorderly in that city on the night of the 22d, and smashed the doors and windows of several stores and the church attempting to burn the latter building They were all armed and captured and severely beat several citizens before the police could restore order

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

Vessel Ashore at Mouth of Umpqua

SCOTTSBURG via Oakland, Sept 24 —The schooner Bobolink came over the bar on Monday last by the lighthouse side and drifted on the beach where she now lies high and dry No lives or any of the cargo was lost, and there is some probability of getting her off on the spring tides

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

VANCOUVER, Sept 24 —A fire broke out in one of the Government stables at the garrison last night at half past eight o clock, totally destroying the building

The new steamer will be launched this afternoon

WAR MISCELLANY

The London Economist of the 1?th inst has a strong article in favor of peace The very object of the war the article says, was to sustain the principle of German unity against the ambition of France. That object is now attained and mankind should interpose to save Paris and then agree that no great city shall hereafter be fortified.

Russian writers address some words to the defenders of Paris that ought to be read in the light of burning Moscow They ask them to be moderate and reasonable and not to suffer Paris to be damaged in a contest with an invincible foe Is not this good advice to come from that country which when it could not stop the conqueror's march short of its capital, burned that capital over his head to burn him out?

For some time after the war began the French Government obtained German newspapers by way of Brussels and Berne and tried to get information from them as to German army movements They however found nothing in them, except some correct statements in regard to their own plans which had been allowed to slip by their own people The French complain that the carelessness of the journals of Cherbourg in publishing all the news they could lay their hands on in regard to naval movements has seriously interfered with operations in the Baltic

A dispatch from Cologne Sept 1?, has this The Gazette to-day has an editorial article giving the following interesting statistical particulars. There are now before Strasbourg 18 batteries of mortars and rifled cannon These fire collectively more than 7,000 shots into the city every day Thirty car loads of munitions of war including 9 000 quintals of iron are thus consumed daily The Gazette then goes on to show how immense must be the expense of the siege of Paris If a proportionate outlay be required there five times these resources will be required

The Daily Oregonian

MONDAY MORNING SEPT 26 1870

Invective Misdirected

[illegible] the Herald against the Democrats [illegible] for exacting pledges of Col Kelly on the [illegible] question [illegible] every day [illegible] its [illegible] violent invective [illegible] paper [illegible] the Democratic members who [illegible] to support any man for Senator who would [illegible] give such pledges as the interests of Southern Oregon required [illegible] course that [illegible] not have been adopted at any other time than that of great excitement such as preceded the Senatorial election. It then declares that the Democratic members of the Legislature shall correct this error — that is that they shall rescind their resolution in favor of Southern Oregon. And this excellent piece of morality winds up with the following observation viz: "Now that faction is gagged and powerless of evil the Democratic members of the Legislature should do this in justice to themselves and to the people." To put it a little differently but in language that better brings out the meaning — "Now that Col. Kelly is elected, and that the danger to which the Democratic party was subjected by reason of the demands of the members from the southern counties that their railroad interests should be cared for is over let us put on a brazen front and declare that the pledge on which we elected Col Kelly is a lie participated in by him and ourselves to insure his election and since it has served its purpose we now discard it and are ready to fight against the railroad interests of Southern Oregon as before."

But perhaps the most remarkable article on this subject which has appeared in the party organ is the following, which came out on Saturday:

> It [illegible] to have been the purpose of one man in the Oregon Legislature, in case he could not be elected Senator (and the only hopes he had were by purchase and treachery) to prevent any one else from receiving that honor without endeavoring to humiliate him. This was a spirit at once dishonorable cowardly and contemptible. And no one will suffer one particle in the estimation of every honest man but the individual who proposed it. He never can wipe out the stigma. The years of Methuselah may be his but he will bear the brand of shame to his grave and it will cling ever after to his memory. The honest yeomanry of Oregon will never forgive nor forget the base act. Our air is too pure for him, and he should seek the first opportunity to flee the State and hide himself for the remaining years of his life in the most degraded purlieus of some crowded city.

The Herald admits that great odium attaches to this transaction but it does not place that odium where it belongs. The name of the one man in the Legislature is not given; the Herald is too cowardly to do that. Col Kelly was known to be hostile to the railway interests of the Southern portion of the State, and under the circumstances it was natural that the members from that section should want assurances that he would not fight their interests in the Senate, as he was understood to have fought them here in the late canvass. But he was under no compulsion to sign the pledges they presented. He was perfectly free to refuse. But he evinced a "spirit at once dishonorable cowardly and contemptible," and the Herald virtually admits that what he did was "humiliating." All the invective of the above article should be directed against Col Kelly for he is the one who has acted the disgraceful part. He it was who suffered himself to be humiliated that he might become a Senator. For seventeen years he had been in pursuit of an office, and at last found and embraced an opportunity to become a Senator by showing himself to be a poltroon. Mammon is personified by Milton as the "least erected spirit that fell from Heaven." To-day in public estimation Col. Kelly is the "least erected" character thus far developed in the political history of Oregon.

A New Apportionment

Had the apportionment of members of the Legislature among the several counties been in proportion to the number of inhabitants in the counties respectively the Republicans would easily have elected a majority of the present Legislature. A little attention to the figures furnished by the census now about completed will establish this fact.

The population of Multnomah county is 11 513. In both branches of the Legislature Multnomah county has six members or one for every 1 919 inhabitants.

The five counties east of the Cascade mountains have an aggregate population of 12,844 and send to the Legislature fourteen members. The proportion is one member for every 917 inhabitants. On the same proportion with Multnomah, they would scarcely be entitled to seven members.

Jackson (Democratic county) has one member for every 1 190 inhabitants. Benton (Republican), with a population almost as large as that of Jackson, has one member less, or one member for 1 518. Josephine (Democratic) has two members and a population of 1 204, or one member for 602 inhabitants. The Republican district comprising the counties of Clatsop Columbia and Tillamook have but one member and 2 528 inhabitants. Clackamas (Republican) has 5 912 inhabitants and four members, one for 1,478. Polk (Democratic) has as many members in the Legislature as Clackamas but only 4 711 inhabitants.

Lane County with a population of 6 438 has five members, one for 1 287. Scarcely a Republican county can be named which has as large a representation in the Legislature in proportion to its population.

Thus far of this matter in its party aspects. Of course it is the duty of the Legislature in making a new apportionment to make it fairly so that all parts of the State may be represented as nearly equally as possible. The enumeration of the inhabitants by authority of the United States is now nearly completed and the Constitution of the State makes it the duty of the Legislature to apportion the Senators and Representatives anew. The eastern counties have an undue power in the Legislature. They have no appreciation of the true interests of the western or greater part of Oregon yet they virtually rule the State. The revenue they pay into the State Treasury is inconsiderable but they are invariably anxious to vote the State's revenues away. A new and equal apportionment will reduce their power to something like what it should be. Multnomah county has almost as large a population as the whole of them and pays [illegible] greater in amount than all of them combined. Yet Multnomah has less than half their power in the Legislature.

Let the Oregon Legislature [illegible] from one source [illegible] of Oregon its conduct toward General Sherman will obtain approval. While this distinguished soldier was in San Francisco the Examiner of that city said:

We have been invited to turn out and offer our respects to Sherman but as we have [illegible] hypocritical enough to say what we [illegible]

It is not merely [illegible] that [illegible] the [illegible] of his pledge [illegible] the Willamette [illegible] that road [illegible] and [illegible] the pledge [illegible] that Col Kelly is bound to work for. And he is equally bound by the expressed terms of his pledge to work [illegible] the [illegible] enterprise known as the [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] Oregonian called to act as [illegible] of the transaction.

The Albany Democrat [illegible] in an article written in a jubilant strain that Col Kelly [illegible] U S Senator. Such is fame.

THE TERRITORIES

Mrs Church Howe wife of United States Marshal Howe was the first lady in Wyoming Territory who ever voted for Delegate to Congress. The ladies voted generally throughout the Territory. They cast 171 votes at the Cheyenne precinct.

The destruction of property in Arizona Territory is immense. A large percentage of the population of [illegible] county have been murdered by Indians during the past year. On the borders of Mexico, in Sonora, the losses of life and property have been even more severe.

The Agricultural Fair will be held at Vancouver the present week commencing on Wednesday. The grounds are pleasant and securely fenced. The building to be occupied as a pavilion for exhibition [illegible] feet long by 6 feet wide is eligibly located, and every way well calculated for the occasion. A good restaurant will be on the grounds. Stables and sheds for horses and cattle are in process of construction.

The recent proclamation of Governor Shaffer at Salt Lake City, creates considerable discussion in that city. The probabilities are that the proclamations will prevent the annual muster of the Mormon militia for November 1st. The Mormons intimate that they will contest the legality of the Governor's appointment of a Major General and an adjutant General of Militia, which they claim the Territorial laws provide for by election, and that the only officers he is authorized to appoint are those on his own staff.

The census returns of Clarke county, as we learn from the Register are as follows: Total population 7 081 souls of whom 1 649 are white males 1 2 9 are white females, 63 are colored males and 80 are colored females. There are 634 dwellings and the same number of families. In the past season a total of 69,000 bushels of all kinds of grain and 5 740 tons of hay were raised in the county. There are 11 703 acres of improved lands, 1 036 horses, 3 206 milch cows 252 work oxen 1 [illegible] other cattle 5 0 9 sheep 1 318 hogs. Total of real estate $450 030 of personal property $ 2 9 . The county debt is $16 000; the total yearly taxation, $15 3 0. There are two institutions of learning with 7 teachers and 110 pupils; one Episcopal two Methodist one United Brethren and three Catholic churches possessing a total valuation of $15 000 worth of property. Vancouver has 959 inhabitants.

Spain and Italy—The Opportunity of the Republicans

From the New York Herald

The complete collapse of the French Empire contrary to all expectations has opened up an opportunity to the wandering republicans of Europe who strange to say are all or almost all southerners. We are not ignorant of the fact that there are republicans in Germany but we do the republicans of the North no injustice when we say that the republicanism of Europe is by very general consent associated with regions south of the Rhine. We do not despair of the North. Germany must begin to feel that royal figure heads are unnecessary. A grand German confederation on a republican basis is already more than a dream. And why should a German republic not embrace Denmark and Sweden and Norway?

At the same time it is not to be denied that the Republican question in Europe is more southern than northern. Italy and Spain more than Germany caught the contagion at the commencement of this century. But for Bonaparte Italy and Spain as well as France would have been and might have remained republican. We all know how on every occasion that France has given signs of republican life the neighboring peninsulas have more or less heartily responded. The strange thing is that while both Italy and Spain have ever caught from France the republican contagion, France has always killed her own offspring. The year 1848 bade fair to give us republics in Spain, in Italy in Portugal in Germany. The advent of Louis Napoleon in power did more than all other causes combined to make the republican effort of 1848 a failure.

Bonapartism is, for the present, dead. France for the present is republican. If France can make peace with King William we know no reason why the French republic should not be a success. If the French republic makes at all a fair show why should not Spain make an end of Prim and all his miserable temporizing. And why should not Mazzini and Garibaldi carry out their purpose in Italy. A French republic, a Spanish republic, a Portuguese republic an Italian republic are not any longer seeming impossibilities.

A universal republic, a genuine [illegible] family does not seem to us to be an [illegible] possibility but we cannot deny that the events of the hour are encouraging. It is our confident belief that this war will open the eyes of all peoples and that a mighty step has been made towards "the parliament of man the federation of the world." We look for a republic in Italy. We look for a republic in Spain. A good beginning [illegible] the result is sure.

Losses of the German Armies

London correspondence (Aug 30) of the New York World furnishes the following regarding German losses up to the 24th of that month. It will be observed that the losses at Sedan are not included in this estimate as the battles about that place occurred afterwards.

At last I have obtained what purports to be a correct statement of the losses of the Prussian army in killed wounded, missing and prisoners from the commencement of the campaign up to the 18th of August. My information comes from a private source in Berlin and although I cannot affirm that it is infallibly correct I have reasons for believing that it is not very far out of the way. I may add that the information was not sent for political effect at all but was transmitted from a medical man in Berlin connected with the medical service of the army to a fellow surgeon in London. The statement is as follows:

	Killed prisoners and missing	Wounded
Weissenburg	4 [illegible]	161
Reichshoffen	11 083	14 515
Forbach and Spicheren	10 4 1	[illegible]
[illegible]	3 5	11 320
Gravelotte Mars la Tour [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total	[illegible]	9 [illegible]

To this [illegible] total of [illegible] killed captured missing and wounded we must add the loss suffered by the army through disease and the killed and wounded in the numberless skirmishes and little fights that have occurred. The army has suffered from dysentery ever since the invasion commenced, and my informant believes that to the above total should be added at least 11 000 to 12 000 for those who died of this and other diseases, or what are now lying sick in the hospitals. This makes in round numbers 1 0 [illegible] men to be deducted from the German force which entered France.

A small photographic apparatus somebody says has been invented which it is said gentlemen can carry around in their pockets and with which they can take the likeness of their lady friends at a moment's warning. That supposes we presume that the lady friend will be kind enough to remain quiet a moment. With this apparatus Jenkins will be able to add likenesses to his descriptions in the papers.

It is estimated in round numbers that 116 000 tons of steel rails, equal to 1 100 miles of steel road had been laid in the United States up to the close of 1869.

It is stated that there are forty eight manufactories of railway cars in the United States and that Pennsylvania has seventeen of these.

SALEM Sept 2 [illegible]

[illegible] NEWS AFFAIRS

Prominence [illegible] obedience to orders of leaders commend me to the unwashed Democracy. No matter whether the matter in hand be political or personal temporal spiritual or what not if an order be issued from headquarters there is no consideration of courtesy policy political economy or conscience which can restrain the rank and file from putting their caudal appendages between their legs and running off to execute the behest. This has just been strikingly illustrated in the matter of Mosher's bill to postpone the term of the Circuit Court for Coos and Curry counties. This bill passed the Senate hastily because there Mr Mosher had but few people to inform as to the particular and pressing necessity for it. It was otherwise in the House. The leaders in that body knew what was the matter with Hannah but the rest of the boys had not been told. The result was that when it was brought up, a majority of the House listening to the protest of the member from Coos and Curry voted against and defeated the bill. The Democratic leaders in the House were at a disadvantage for while they knew the objects to be accomplished by the bill they could not well publicly state them. The objections were given by Mr Lockhart and others and they appeared to be so well founded that it was surprising that anybody should fail to be convinced of the inutility of the bill. As soon as the two houses adjourned, the leaders betook themselves to instructing and setting up their recusant brethren. The thumb screws of party discipline though the question was in no sense a party one—were so effectually applied that when the House met again Friday afternoon every Democrat present voted for a resolution to ask for the return of the bill from the Senate every one of them voted to reconsider an amendment attached by the House before the vote had been taken on the passage of the bill, whereby the act was made to take effect only after ninety days and then every one of them voted for the bill, passing it as it came from the Senate 26 to 19. Now it may be asked, what was the occasion for all this backing and dirt eating? The only reason urged in public for the bill was that it was necessary to postpone the Circuit Court for Coos and Curry because it is indispensably necessary for Judge Thayer to remain on the Supreme Court bench till the end of the term. Mr Lockhart of Coos and Curry showed that the postponement would be a peculiar hardship upon litigants and would cost the counties very nearly the full expense of an extra term. It was admitted by Dorris that it would cost $160 extra in the item of Sheriff's mileage in the summoning of a new jury. The real occasion for the application of the party thumb screws is only this. Judge Thayer who must hold the term wants to remain here till after the State Fair. Senator Mosher who is an attorney at law with business in the Coos and Curry court wants to remain here till after the State Fair and till the close of the session. Only this and nothing more. The people of Coos and Curry who will be put to large expense and great inconvenience by the change will thus have an early experience of how good a thing it is to have "every Department of the State Democrat." It is to be hoped that while they are reflecting upon these matters they will remember that all the Republicans voted against the local tax imposed by this bill upon them.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

Considering the intensely hungry state of the Democratic maw it is astonishing that any Democrat should seriously contemplate the snuffing out of an office, little or big is it not? And yet a bill has come into the Senate from Democratic hands providing for the abolishment of the office of Adjutant General, notwithstanding the office is now occupied by a thorough paced Democrat: selected by His Excellency Gov Miller through his Aid de Camp Grover. I do not believe there is any significance in the movement except so far as it may exhibit a disposition to pester the Governor. If the bill passes, the title should be amended so as to express the real purpose: "A bill to abolish Adjutant General Dennison, and to abridge the patronage of the Governor."

A STRAIGHT OUT DEMOCRATIC DANCE.

Grover and Kelly are going to give a ball. The preparations, thus far, are strictly on the Democratic, time-honored principle that to the victor belong the spoils. The committees are composed of only bed rock Democrats. There is not on the committee of arrangements, the committee of reception nor among the floor managers the name of one Republican. The election of these committeemen was one of the most unanimous and overwhelming Democratic triumphs ever achieved in this world or any other. It is understood that the fiddler will be a Democrat too. Nothing but Democratic reels will be danced and everybody will dance constructively, at least, on the Democratic platform. Reed's Opera House has been engaged because the Woolen Manufacturing Co had no suitable room for the occasion. It is not yet known whether any but Democratic ladies and gentlemen of unquestionable Democratic antecedents will be admitted. I am told that Grover himself named the committees and Kelly who is now in the way of assenting to anything which may be proposed made no objection, though his sense of propriety would have dictated the selection of mixed committees especially as the community upon which the ball must depend for patronage is so largely Republican. It is a small matter however and I should not have mentioned it save for the fact that the subject is the gossip of the town.

THE SIENS AT PILGRIMAGE

Both Houses adjourned Friday afternoon till 2 o'clock Monday to give the members and lobbyists an opportunity to make the usual biennial pilgrimage to Portland. Friday evening a considerable number of them went down and Saturday morning the emigration was still larger. If through the enlivening influences of champagne any of them should have occasion to make an address to your police Recorder, I trust that functionary will administer the law with the impartial severity demanded by the circumstances and sentence the offenders to two days hard labor in the Houses to which they may respectively belong with no other beverage than water. If that don't cure em of cutting up shines, then the death punishment may as well be abandoned and let every man be a law unto himself.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Chicago Republican says: One of the Democratic nominees in Michigan is named Bosch. Such a candidate will bear watching. He must be a slippery fellow. He has appropriated the true name of the party. It is all bosh and no one member has a right to claim the entire title all to himself. The leaders should look to it.

One of the principal objections urged by Thomas Mooney prospective candidate for Governor of California, against the Chinese was that they took their accumulated earnings out of the country to China. It is now reported that Mooney has gone to China and taken with him $[illegible] 000 obtained in a manner in which the Chinese with all their ingenuity and shrewdness have never succeeded in emulating.

Says the New York Herald: The lightning calculator of all the world and the Democracy has come to life again and has recommended his magnificent ciphering in the exhibit by the double rule of three of the great Democratic gains in Vermont. He has shown that on the ratio of these gains in 1870 if they keep it up the Democracy will have Vermont by 1900. Bring out the big gun and let the world rejoice.

The Republicans of Virginia in their address to the people of the State say they have every reason to be encouraged in the campaign before them. They only require unity of action in order to win an honest victory. Every effort [illegible] made by the Committees in bringing to punishment all offenders against the act of Congress securing suffrage against bribery and corruption. The prospects of the party in the State were never more cheering and from present appearances the Republicans will return six out of the eight members of the next House.

W T SHERMAN General.

The Albany Register is responsible for the following: Mr Stout asserts that Mosher the gentleman selected to fill the seat of the Senator elect from Douglas (Mr Herman) promised faithfully before it was decided that he was to take the seat of Mr Herman that he would vote in the caucus for him (Mr Stout) for the Senatorship first, last and all the time. Mr Fay asserts that he promised to vote for him (Fay) for the Senatorship while the same promise was freely made to Kelly. After his admission to the aforesaid seat in the Senate Mr Mosher went back on all three of the gentlemen he was so anxious to see elevated to Senatorial position by his vote and went into the caucus and voted for Lane. The man is undoubtedly a bedrock Democrat—he shows it by the manner in which he respects his word.

DAY MORNING, SEPT. 26, 1870.

CITY.

[illegible] ASYLUM.—The joint committee of [illegible] the Legislature, appointed to visit and [illegible] upon the Oregon Asylum for the Insane, at [illegible] Portland, came down on Saturday last, and [illegible] made their tour of inspection will return [illegible] Capital to day. We learn incidentally that [illegible] very favorably impressed with what they [illegible] on this visit. Indeed, no one could be [illegible] than pleased upon noting the conveni[illegible] and arrangements made at this asylum for [illegible] of the unfortunate men and women sent [illegible] treatment. The whole number of patients remaining in the institution Sept. 1st, 1870, [illegible]. The whole number of State and private patients treated during the two years which [illegible] elapsed since the report of Sept. 1st, 1868, [illegible] 183. The number discharged cured [illegible] the same period of time was 61, twelve of [illegible] inmates less than three months; six [illegible] months; six less than one year. [illegible] more than one year. Of those discharged improved, one was in less than three [illegible] less than six months; one less than [illegible] and one more than one year. Four[illegible] and three females have died since the [illegible] Sept. 1, 1868. Of these deaths, six [illegible] from pulmonary consumption, three from [illegible] of the brain; one from epilepsy [illegible] general debility; one from acute mania; [illegible] exhaustion of chronic mania; one from [illegible] and one from the rupture of a blood [illegible]. Of the nativity of the one hundred and [illegible] patients now remaining in the hospital [illegible] are natives of the United States; seventy [illegible] Germany; thirteen of Ireland; two of [illegible] of France; one of Scotland; one [illegible] three of Canada; two of China; two [illegible]. The per centage of recoveries for [illegible] past six years, has averaged forty per cent, [illegible] compare favorably with the curative results of the best asylum of the country. In the [illegible] of Dr. Hawthorne to the Legislative Assembly, we find the following:

"[illegible] D. L. Dix, who has spent most of her life [illegible] interests of this unfortunate class of people, visited the asylum twice in the summer of [illegible] and expressed herself much pleased with [illegible] pleasant surroundings, as also with the general [illegible] of the institution. You are [illegible] more from a feeling of humanity than [illegible] hope of reward, that I entered into [illegible] present contract, after the Legislature had [illegible] without having made provisions for the [illegible] of the same. Many of my friends advised [illegible] to enter into the contract, believing [illegible] under all the circumstances it would involve [illegible] great loss. After a full consideration of all [illegible] I concluded to make the effort, [illegible] that I would have discharged [illegible] duty towards those whom the State had [illegible] provide for. I am happy to say [illegible] in the undertaking, and [illegible] much difficulty I may have encountered [illegible] the time, the wards of the State have [illegible] of complaint; on the contrary, it [illegible] my constant care to provide every necessary comfort possible, to aid in the restoration [illegible] health and reason of those placed under [illegible]."

[illegible] Dr. Hawthorne suggests the policy [illegible] some plan that will result in [illegible] of a State Insane Asylum within a [illegible]. In order to accomplish this object [illegible] oppressing the people by heavy taxation, [illegible] that a small special tax [illegible] property of the State be annually [illegible] and collected in the same manner and [illegible] as the State and county taxes. [illegible] accumulated to be called the Asylum Fund, and to be securely invested until such [illegible] amount will be sufficient to commence [illegible] of Asylum buildings, which would [illegible] than $250,000; and, to make it a [illegible], require fully two years in its [illegible].

[illegible].—Since the drama of [illegible]," no piece has been put [illegible] stage so decidedly sensational [illegible] "After Dark," played Saturday [illegible] consist in its startling sen[illegible] and its entirely correct [illegible] play mentioned it it has [illegible] and was designed to be [illegible] rather than to the intellectual [illegible] of the personages belonging to the [illegible] Medhurst (Miss Hinckley), Old [illegible] and Dicey Morris (Mr. Clin[illegible] portrayed are among the [illegible] belong to the human heart—love, [illegible]. Miss Hinckley's personation [illegible] very correct, except that in [illegible] a little more force would [illegible] better keeping with the general tenor [illegible]. She has evidently studied nature [illegible] related to the drama, and we [illegible] preference for the style she [illegible] against the ranting and mechan[illegible] to which nearly all actors and ac[illegible] aspire. She shows that sorrow or [illegible] any other deep emotion may be conn[illegible] and in this she is the true [illegible] are deep, so the most [illegible] often find their best ex[illegible] a mere intonation of the [illegible] gesture. Studying nature, Miss [illegible] this lesson, and hence her [illegible] natural, and often grace[illegible] Miss Medhurst she came fully [illegible] the dramatic requirements [illegible] have particularized. Mr. Bates as [illegible] was "smart," self-reliant and [illegible] cool as the author himself could [illegible] Vinson gave an artistic and excel[illegible] of Old Tom, save that we thought [illegible] a little overwrought. Mul[illegible] heavy villainy of Chandos Belling[illegible] good effect. Clinton—well, Clinton [illegible] anything half so well as his Dicey Mor[illegible] achieved a success which was almost [illegible] and received some well deserved applause. [illegible] and stage effects were well put on [illegible], as a whole, was mounted in a style [illegible] have done credit to more pretentious [illegible]. "After Dark" will be performed again [illegible].

[illegible] RAILROAD, AGAIN.—A good deal [illegible] felt in this city as to the course and [illegible] west side road. It is stated that the [illegible] be secured in this city instead of be[illegible] at East Portland, if citizens here [illegible] up the difference between the cost [illegible] the road by Oswego, crossing the riv[illegible] building it wholly on this side of [illegible]. Most of the people of Portland, we [illegible], would favor this proposition. How [illegible] is the question. The Constitution [illegible] explicitly that no aid shall be granted [illegible] county or municipality to any company or [illegible], for any purpose whatever. Now it [illegible] that the case might be reached [illegible] way: The Legislature has power [illegible] the city to increase its indebtedness. [illegible] done, measures may be taken to obvi[illegible] constitutional impediment by granting di[illegible] Mr. Holladay the aid to be afforded, on [illegible] that he will cause the road to be built [illegible] this side of the river, with its terminus [illegible]. In this way the objection against [illegible] of aid to a company or corporation [illegible] we think, be avoided. The details of [illegible] proposition could be arranged and perfected [illegible] make the whole thing perfectly se[illegible] both sides. The interest on the subsidy [illegible] to ensure the construction of the road [illegible] terminus here would be inconsiderable in [illegible] to the results to be gained from it; [illegible] the lapse of twenty years the city could [illegible] the bonds. The additional wealth that [illegible] created here by the building of the road [illegible] place would add to the wealth of the city in [illegible] time ten-fold more than the subsidy [illegible]. We throw out these suggestions for [illegible] people to consider, only adding now that it [illegible] be time that something were done, if the [illegible] of the road is to be secured in Portland.

[illegible] COURT.—A woman named Matilda [illegible], proprietress of a saloon on Front street, [illegible] held to answer to the charge of grand larceny [illegible] examination before the Recorder, on Satur[illegible].

[illegible] man named Caroline, for larceny of [illegible] from Charles Lee was committed for thirty [illegible].

[illegible] Johns, for grand larceny from manager [illegible], at the Oro Fino Theatre on Saturday after[illegible], will be examined to day. His case was [illegible] up" by officer Tennant in a very cred[illegible] manner. It seems that Johns, during the [illegible], entered Mr. Bates' dressing room and [illegible] his pockets of $25. Officer Tennant was [illegible] description of the man, and he continued [illegible] search until 12 o'clock Saturday night, when [illegible] found his man in a billiard room and took him [illegible] custody. On the way to jail he partially [illegible] the transaction, agreeing to pay over [illegible] money if the prosecution was dropped. In [illegible] jail he was thoroughly searched, when a [illegible] dollar piece was found in his stocking. [illegible] that he was fairly entrapped, he made a [illegible] breast of the affair.

[illegible] TRIP TO WALLULA.—The O. S. N. Co.'s [illegible] will make an extra trip to Wal[illegible] on Thursday morning next.

BRIEF MENTION.—The Northern Pacific Railroad survey is about completed from Puget Sound to Vancouver. The route traversed is said to be entirely practicable.

The Resolute brought a huge raft of logs from the Cowlitz river on Saturday for the upper saw mill company of this city.

City Marshal Saunders will dispose of some city property for taxes to day, in continuation of the sale advertised for Saturday last.

The barkentine Emma Augusta left San Francisco for this port on Saturday, with a full cargo of railroad iron and assorted merchandise.

The ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at Oregon City intend giving a series of tableaux for the benefit of their church, on Thursday evening next.

The Oregon and California Railroad Company advertise for fifty men, who are wanted immediately to work in the gravel pit on the Molalla river.

Judge Sawyer is expected to arrive here from San Francisco about the last of the present month to preside at the regular term of the United States Circuit Court.

The Alta says that Capt. Samuel C. Beman, late of the New York Sun, who arrived by the California last evening, comes to Portland to take the position of local editor of the Bulletin.

Mrs. Bella Bird has gone to Salem with the members of her troupe, and will inaugurate a theatrical season at the Opera House this evening, which will continue until after the State Fair.

The new steamboat built at Vancouver for the trade between Portland and that place, was launched on Saturday afternoon. She will receive her machinery at the Wallamet Iron Works of this city.

A young man named Fox, brother of the President of the Wallamet Iron Works in this city, lost the great toe of one foot on Saturday, by a heavy piece of iron which fell upon his foot while at work in the foundry.

We understand that the Rockfellow mine in Baker county is now paying handsome dividends to its owners. It is said to be developed so far as to show a richness equal to the celebrated Amador mine of California.

The frame of the new church edifice at East Portland, St. David's (Episcopal) Church, will be ready to raise by Wednesday of this week. This will be the fourth fine structure built in the interest of the Episcopal Church, since Bishop Morris came among us.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.—The following passengers from San Francisco, arrived last evening by the N. P. T. Co.'s steamship California, Captain Fred. Bolles, three days from San Francisco:

Edwin Russell and wife, Capt Wm Turnbull, D N Osgood, M Brown, Mrs M A Ford, daughter and son, Geo Payne and family, Mrs Tilghman and 3 children, W M Moreland, Wm Bond, T B Hart, Simeon Davis, M Buxbam, Frank L Moore, Mrs M L Williamson, Mrs M Merritt, C C Blakeslee, L A Dougherty and wife, A W Zimmerman, Wm Masters, L F Protzman, S C Benson, W J Pettigrew, E O Carson, W H Henderson, Mrs G W Durgin, Mrs M Chapman, D K Webster and wife, E A Bradley, W Ireland, Miss Eva West, Mrs A Cabalan and infant, T McKay, T W McDonald, F W Wilson, Miss J Thompson, Miss M Hockgurtel, E C Smith, R A Murphy, H L Rudd and family, M W Packard and family, Mrs F F Havens, J M Leabus and son, John McGuire, A H Caldwell, S Burkhalter, wife and five children, A C Mildrau, Miss Carrie Rudd, F C Protzman, H L Rudd, Miss M Hixon, M W Patzer, wife and five children, E S Smith, J M Stevens and son, Mrs. H L Rudd and two children, Patzer, Col. West, W., F & Co.'s messenge, and 81 in the steerage.

STAMPEDED.—As the Minnehaha was taking on board a lot of sheep, at the American Exchange wharf, on Saturday morning, for some point below, the sheep became frightened, and one or two leaped into the water. This was just as good a thing as the balance of the flock wanted, and away they went, one after another, until fifty sheep were in the river, taking one man with them in his efforts to stop the flock. The man was picked up, and small boats manned by citizens started in pursuit of the swimming sheep, all of which were retaken, but some of them managed to reach East Portland before being captured. Taken in all its details the incident caused great excitement and amusement for a time.

REAL ESTATE.—The following transfers of real estate in this city were matters of record on Saturday:

Sylvester Patton to Philip Cohen; lot 8 in block 63, in Couch's Addition; administrative deed; consideration, $850.

Lester Potter and wife to Philip Cohen; lot 8 in block 93, Couch's Addition; consideration, $260.

L. Potter and wife to P. Cohen; lot 8 in block 63, Couch's Addition; consideration $200.

Wm. T. Gillihan to H. P. Haines; lots 5 and 6 in block 316, Gillihan' Addition; warranty deed; consideration, $1,200.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.—What prices may be obtained for a parcel of real property at auction, sometimes forms a basis to judge in reference to the value of other lots. On Saturday last Mr. Richardson disposed of two lots in this city which brought $5,400 as follows: lot 2 in block 114—$3,000; lot 7 in same block—$2,400. The lots have each 50 feet on Front street and First street, running the depth of a block, between Jefferson and Columbia streets, and are both inside lots. At the same time Mr. Richardson sold the undivided four eighths of the east half of the donation land claim of Danford Balch, deceased, for $5,550.

PUGET SOUND STEAMERS.—Of the three steamers now running regularly in the trade between Olympia and Victoria, two are owned wholly or in part by Mr. L. M. Starr, resident of this city—the Isabel and the Alida. The third is the Eliza Anderson, owned by Capt. Finch. The two first named vessels carry the United States mail at present, and the Victoria public are trying to raise money to pay the company represented by Mr Starr a subsidy, to enable the Isabel to make an additional trip a week to Victoria, in accordance with the terms of the recent confederation with Canada.

VALUABLE MAPS.—Messrs. Russell & Ferry, of this city, have just placed upon the walls of their office, fifty-two township maps of the region from six miles to twenty-four miles in width, from a point eighteen miles below Portland to a point eighteen miles above Albany, in Linn county. These maps are from the original plats at the U. S. Land Office, and show the lands occupied as well as they could be described by a visit to the records, or from the original deeds. All vacant lands are also shown to good advantage. They were prepared for the firm by Mr. Thornton.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHAPEL.—At this place of worship yesterday morning service was conducted by Bishop Morris, at the close of which he informed the members that the parochial care of the parish had been committed to Rev. Mr. Rosenberg, who was present and gave his first discourse. Mr Rosenberg has lately arrived in Portland, direct from the East, and is Principal of the Bishop Scott Grammar School.

AT HOME AGAIN.—Mr. F. C. Protzman, of the firm of Protzman, Gillihan & Co., returned from California last evening with a large assortment of fall and winter goods in their line, for which they have been making room by late sales of the summer stock at cost. Be prepared to see an astonishing stock of boots and shoes, next door to the St. Charles, at surprisingly low prices.

VANCOUVER FAIR.—On Wednesday of this week the Annual Fair of the Clarke County, W. T., Agricultural Society will be opened at Vancouver, to continue three days. Governor E. S. Salomon will deliver the annual address—but upon which particular day we are not informed. We learn that many persons from this city contemplate attending.

STOVES AND TINWARE.—The attention of the country trade is invited to the advertisement of E. Milwain in another column. The storerooms of Mr. Milwain are filled with goods of every kind in the line of tinmen's stock, house furnishing hardware, cook stoves, box stoves, parlor stoves, etc.

FOR HONOLULU.—The barkentine Jane A. Falkenburg, Capt. Cathcart, has now on board all the freight she proposed taking for Honolulu from Portland, and will proceed to Rainier to complete her cargo with lumber. She will be ready for sea some day during the present week.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT, DEADY, J.—This Court meets this morning, and a decision will be announced on the demurrer in the case of McKay vs. Campbell, an action to recover a penalty off a judge of election in Wasco county under the act to enforce the fifteenth amendment.

IN BALLAST.—There must be a demand in China for Pacific Coast productions, as we observe that the North German bark Edward, 85 days from Yokahama, has reached Puget Sound in ballast, for a cargo of lumber to China.

THE HEBREW NEW YEAR.—On to-day and to morrow, the 26th and 27th of September, 1870, our Hebrew fellow citizens will celebrate the festival of their new year, Rosh Ha Shanah, beginning of the year 5631. According to the injunction of the Bible—Leviticus 23, 32—the observances will be continued "from eve to eve," and the ceremonials began at the Synagogue Beth Israel last evening, at which time Dr. Schwab discoursed in the English language. At the same place this morning Dr. Schwab will discourse in the German, and to-morrow morning Rabbi Sneersohn will discourse in English. Services will also be held at the Synagogue Ahabi Sholum by Dr Erkman. The ceremonies will close at 6 o'clock P. M. to-morrow. Those more reformed Israelites claim that the Bible only enjoins one day to be observed, while the more orthodox observe two days. The character of this festival is peculiarly solemn, as are indeed, the whole history and economy of that people, so that even their festive rejoicings are eminently charitable. The day derives its solemnity not solely from being the new year, but also from the deeper symbolic character of the month, and the festivals celebrated during its term. We cannot at this time notice in detail the nature of these symbols, but the public are cordially invited to attend the services in commemoration of the events.

AFTER THE BOYS.—On Wednesday evening last an infant child, in a baby carriage, was hit in the face by a pebble stone, thrown by a careless youth from the plaza grounds, while the 23d Infantry Band was performing at the usual outdoor concert, and again, on Saturday evening, a stone passed rather too close to be pleasant to a gentleman sitting in his carriage with his wife and little ones, landing on the porch at the residence of Mr Frazer. At the request of citizens, Marshal Saunders will leave a policeman at the grounds on next Wednesday evening to look after those rude youths, whose "sport" is becoming dangerous to the public.

EQUESTRIAN ACTRESS.—A San Francisco exchange has the following: "Miss Leo Hudson will leave for Portland, Oregon, on Thursday next. She goes under an engagement with Mrs. Bird, and will treat the Portlanders to a series of equestrian dramas Rookwood being the first. As the horse drama has never been given in that part of the world. Miss Hudson will doubtless create a sensation.

ASTORIA FIRE ENGINE.—We understand that the Board of Trustees of the town of Astoria, have purchased, through Capt. Flavel, the hand Hunneman fire engine lately in use by Multnomah Company No. 2 of this city. The engine will be handsomely repainted, brightened and furnished with hose before taking her final leave of Portland.

DAILY.—A "State Fair Paper" will be issued on the grounds of the Oregon State Agricultural Society daily, during the continuance of the fair next month.

UP HILL BUSINESS—Hauling cord wood from East Portland.

Paris Fortifications.

ENGLISH SKETCH OF THE GREAT WORKS.

[From the London News, Aug. 24.]

On the fortifications of Paris the French Government is now bestowing infinite labor and care. The plan of these fortifications dates from the Premiership of M. Thiers, in 1841; but after the lapse of nearly thirty years these works are found incomplete. Most of the great fortresses of Europe have been constructed, not for the sake of the cities which they enclose, but to defend some object far beyond them. They occupy decisive strategic points, the possession of which conduces in an especial degree to the possession of the communications or roads on a possible theatre of war. Such are Mayence at the junction of the Rhine and Main, at the cross of their valleys and at the intersection of eight roads, and Madgeburg at the intersection of nine roads. The capital of a great country, however, is a grand "objective;" if it is fortified it is for its own sake, in order that an enemy may not by seizing on it lay his hand on the springs of public action. Napoleon and Marmont held that the fortifications of Paris would also subserve a further end and make the capital a most valuable base of military operations; but on this point opinion is much divided, and perhaps we are about to witness the solution of a problem which can only be solved experimentally. The art of fortification has engaged the profound attention of some of the best mathematicians of the last three hundred years, but its main principles are very simple. Anything which gives cover to a combatant is to that extent a fortification, be it a parapet or a pile of wood. In India tiers of camel saddles have been turned to account as breastworks. Permanent fortifications as distinguished from field works require to be stronger than them, because heavier guns are usually employed against them. The aim of the art is to economize force in war, giving strength to a military position by a right expenditure of labor, and enabling the body of troops which occupy that position to resist a more powerful force. In a scientifically constructed fortification the defender's position is protected from the observation and the missiles of his assailant; the assailant's access to the position is made difficult and obstructed, and the defender's position affords him every advantage in observing his assailant and in directing troops and weapons against him.

Sometimes these advantages are in great part secured by natural positions. Thus the King of Prussia describing last Thursday's battle in a message to the Queen, rightly designated Marshal Bazaine's position a natural fortress, for on the hills where the French planted their batteries nature gave vantage, and with it difficulty of access. Where a city on a plain is to be defended art must supply similar advantages. The plans of most fortified cities show a succession of fronts, furnished with projections in the form of the letter V, though with an angle less acute. The reason of this arrangement, although very simple, does not always at once strike the observer. It is that the defenders of a wall or a bank cannot see, and therefore cannot fire upon the ground close in front of the work on which they stand; and if that work be traced in a straight line, a polygon, or a convex curve, the ground immediately along the whole of its length will be unseen and undefended from the parapet, so that an enemy having gained the foot of the escarp may pass freely round, and establish his mines to breach the wall and plant his ladders to scale it where he deems best. This is what continually happened when cities were merely defended by a wall strengthened with towers. But if the continuous outline of the work be broken by the V shaped projections, the two sides of each of these projections may be commanded by a flank fire, and in this manner every part of the front may be swept by the guns of the defenders. Paris is now wholly surrounded by defensive works. In the first place, there is the enclosing ring, or enceinte, provided with no fewer than ninety-eight bastions, with an immense ditch before them and guns behind. Besides this enclosure, however, a large number of forts have been constructed and armed. Among the forts on both sides of the Seine, near Paris, are, on the left bank Ivry, Bicetre, Montrouge, Vanvres, Issy and Mont Valerien: on the right bank the forts at the north and east of St. Denis, de l'Est, d'Aubervilliers, Romanville, Noisy, Rosny, Nogent sur-Marne, Faisanderie, Gravel and Alfort. In order to protect the approaches to Paris on the Clamart side a fort of earthworks is being constructed on the plan organized for the defence of Sebastopol by Gen. Todleben. These detached forts are placed with reference to the range of their guns, and support ing one another, are capable of filling the spaces between them with a hail of iron or a wall of fire. Within their protection an army may manœuvre with freedom or retreat in safety, as Marshal Bazaine's troops did to the camp before Metz, certain that they will not be followed there by an enemy.

Including these forts the fortifications of Paris extend over a circuit of twenty-six miles.

The Summer is past and Autumn is here,
The finest season throughout the whole year.
But the days grow cool, and all must prepare
For warmer Clothing in Winter to wear.
Well, KORN & FISHEL, of Clothing renown,
Have the best supply ever brought to town.
They have all sorts of coats and pants that will match,
That will last a whole year and not need a patch.
There are socks, vests and shirts and a thousand things more,
Which they offer you cheaper than ever before.
You all need the clothes and they need the tin,
Then get a new suit and let Winter go in.

Bismarck on the War.

An Evening Tribune cable dispatch from Berlin, dated September 20th, says a letter from Count Bismarck says the next phase of this wonderful war will be the investment of Paris, and intimates that, the defense of Paris and all hope of successful resistance being then over, there must be peace. The Government of France, or those in power, whoever they may be, cannot desire further slaughter when all that will be required of them will be to give certain absolute guarantees that the peace of Europe will not again be disturbed by ambitious aspirations or the desires of their people, and that the miseries which they themselves have brought upon the two nations may never again be repeated. I am quoted in several journals as having stated what these guarantees must be. Of course these statements are mainly romance. When approached by gentlemen of the press I generally give them civil answers. Their imagination does the rest. You know guarantees are necessary to secure lasting peace. It is rather a military than a political question. No overtures of peace can or will be received until the Prussian army is before Paris; but the safety of Germany and the peace of the world secured, Germany will not oppose the termination of a war from which she will not retire, until the legitimate aspirations of her children are secured and Germany safe from future cruel and unnecessary slaughter.

Trust what Time has Sanctioned.

The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport, is worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world innumerable preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets, and come down like extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in Christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abominations on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to swindle the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

This Remedy does not simply relieve for a short time but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh, and I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. "Cold in the head" and Catarrhal Headache are cured with a few applications. If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, stopping up of the nose at times, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull, have pain or pressure in the head, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. I will send my pamphlet on Catarrh to any address free. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is now
SOLD BY MOST DRUGGISTS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.
Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 60 cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private Stamp which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private Stamp, issued by the United States Government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" engraved upon it, and need not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others, representing themselves as Dr Sage; I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine.

Medical Madness.—Let us hope that the insane practice of administering poisonous evacuants in cases of indigestion, biliousness, constipation and female debility is almost out of date. When the Tonic-Cathartic produced by Nature herself in the most valuable sanitary Spring in the world is reproduced by science, in the form of TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT, it is indeed midsummer madness to rack, relax and irritate the [illegible] or enfeebled system with drastic purgatives. This refreshing and delicious counterpart of a remedy prepared by the creative hand of the Omnipotent Physician Himself, is everywhere superseding the nauseous and sickening compounds heretofore used as laxatives.

The German Democrats

[illegible]

From the [illegible] Commercial Sept 2

The position taken by the more influential portion of the Democratic press in reference to the European war has given great and natural offense to the Germans in this country. There was no good reason why the question at issue between France and Prussia should have [illegible] into American politics. A large majority of the American people undoubtedly sympathize with King William. The vulgar Napoleon [illegible] page upon his shoulders the responsibility of a most destructive and cruelly unnecessary war which the King of [illegible] was apparently very anxious to avoid. With such a comprehension of the cause of the war, a majority of the more intelligent people of the United States do desire to see punishment [illegible] fall upon him who so richly deserves it. With the vexed questions of European politics Americans have no special concern. They believe in the ethics of free institutions and sympathize with the efforts of any people to establish a republican form of government. They do not desire to see the French people who feel themselves ready for such a government, held under the licence of an empire which was shaped in iniquity and conceived in sin—born of perjury and baptized in murder. Nor would the people of this country rejoice at the triumph of the German idea of centralized power over the efforts of a patriotic and brave people to govern themselves. Such issues however have been dragged into the American opinion of the present war by long winded editors who pretended to look at the stage of hostilities from a statesman's box. King William called Germany to arms when Napoleon declared that he intended to carry the French arms into Prussia. In so far as the Prussian King has overthrown the adventurous Emperor we rejoice, but when it [illegible] a matter of sympathy we do [illegible] the [illegible] of a people who have been compelled as the French have to make such enormous sacrifices, and to suffer such awful disasters to satisfy the ambition of a despot.

The Democratic press however has seen fit to go behind the scenes. It has probed the motives of the Emperor, on the one hand and the King on the other. The Irish American voters were quick to declare sympathy for France. Such sympathy was generated by feelings of religious enthusiasm for the Church which Louis Napoleon pretends to defend and hostility for the royal family of England, which was so untimely connected with that of Prussia. The Democratic press saw a good chance for political capital and so they joined with the Irish voters in the cry of Hurrah for France! Not satisfied with that they vigorously denounced the Germans, and the cause for which they are so valorously fighting. Some of the Democratic editors have been conspicuously bitter. The Chicago Times has steeped its pen in gall when it wrote of Germany. The New York World compares the Frenchmen to the soldiers under Grant, the Germans to the rebels under Lee. The Albany Argus followed in the same strain. The lesser organs of Democracy echoed the tune with more or less vigor according to their instincts, but even the most cautious and timid among them could hardly conceal their anti-German animus.

It was not to be supposed that the German Democrats would tamely submit to such insults. They are coming forward and renouncing allegiance to a party that so fiercely attacked their nationality and assails the cause for which so many of their brothers are now in arms. They are not joining the Republican party, we do not claim that, but they are putting themselves into an independent political position where they will be better prepared to listen to the arguments of that party when it advises them to vote and act with it in promoting the interests of their adopted country. As a sign of the way in which the tide is setting we would refer to the action of the Executive Committee of the German Democrats in New York city, who met on Wednesday evening and passed resolutions in which it was asserted in so many words, that "regard for truth, right and honor alike demand of them the severance from any and every political association that could or would accept and follow such an unprincipled, malicious, mean, and detestable course as had been chosen by certain Democratic papers." This is only the keynote of the tune which the German voters of this country are preparing to sing. We shall soon hear it resounding from one end of the country to the other. The Bourbon Democracy have made another mistake.

Prussian Losses—Official but Incomplete Statement

The Berlin correspondent of the Times writing under date of August 22 says: At length the first official losses in the field have been made public. They only fulfill too completely the melancholy anticipations with which we saw the troops going out to the war. Although restricted to officers, and referring only to a few introductory engagements, they contain figures which will not easily be erased from the minds of men. I will just give you a few examples. As you are aware a Prussian regiment on a war footing has 2,006 men, with 90 officers. Of these 69 officers of the Seventy fourth Regiment (Hanoverians) lost no less than 30 in killed and wounded at Weissenbourg. The Seventy-seventh (also Hanoverians) on the same occasion lost 25 officers; the Thirty ninth (Rhinelanders), 20; the Eighty second (Hessians) 19, the Ninety fifth (Thuringians) 16, the Eighty-third (Hessians), 14, the Fifty third (Westphalians), 11, the Eighty eighth (Nassauers), 9, the Eightieth (Hessians) 8, &c. Still worse was it at Woerth, where the Prussians were for five mortal hours opposed to the French who were stationed on the hills, and could not be dislodged until taken in the flank by Wurtembergers and Bavarians. There the Fifty-eighth regiment (Poseners), had 3[illegible] dead and wounded officers, the Fifty ninth (Poseners) 23, the Seventh (King's Grenadiers—Lower Silesians and German Poseners), 35, the Forty seventh (Lower Silesians), 29, the Forty sixth (Lower Silesians) 33, the Fifty seventh (Lower Silesians) 30, the Sixth (Westphalians) 28, the Thirty seventh (Westphalians) 25, &c. What terrible conclusions must be drawn from these statistics in respect of the higher grades as to the number of casualties among the rank and file I need not say. But the most frightful carnage of all in the earlier part of the campaign was at Spicheren whose steep and precipitous heights, defended by a tearing fire from cannon, mitrailleuses and Chassepots, were thrice assaulted in vain, and at last carried at the point of the bayonet. On this spot 10,000 Prussians, gradually increased to 27,000 struggled against 40,000 French. Though the official list does not extend to this sanguinary encounter there can be no doubt as to the correctness of the private intelligence forwarded to me which gives the total of the losses as 2,2[illegible]7 of whom 811 are dead and 1,4[illegible] wounded. Accordingly every twelfth man was killed or wounded. Some companies left nearly one half their men on the spot, as for instance the fifth company of the Forty eighth (Rhinelanders) which went with 250 men into the fire and came out with 129; and the first company of the Eighth King's Own Brandenburgers, which in the evening of the battle consigned 107 comrades either to the grave or the hospital. Passing on to the tremendous three days battle near Metz, we have but private intelligence, and this only referring to individual detachments, yet we know already enough to imagine the rest. On the 14th, in the action named after Lange or Courcelles, the Forty eighth (Rhinelanders) lost 32 officers and 691 rank and file; in other words about one third its complement. A rifle battalion in the same locality was by the enemy's fire deprived of nine of its officers and 200 rank and file, that is of a third of the officers and a fourth of the men. On the 14th as well as on the 16th, the latter being the battle of Mars la Tour or Vionville, the losses of the Prussians were [illegible] greater than those of the French, the former being on both occasions the attacking [illegible] divisions of Bazaine's army making the [illegible] of a position till then thought almost impregnable. Both these victories were followed by extraordinary results and by great moral and strategic consequences. The prestige of the French army even in the eyes of the world was dissipated; two of their corps were dissolved and the position of their main army, which had threatened our frontier, became untenable. The [illegible] positions of the enemy had been such that after two of its isolated corps [illegible] the Moselle [illegible] without a halt up to the guns of Metz [illegible] the [illegible] towns of Nancy, Luneville and Pont a Mousson [illegible] French soil is in our possession. The only important point in this territory which is still held by the French, Strasburg, is surrounded by German troops and half the journey [illegible].

Election Frauds. How Shall They be Stopped?

From the New York Tribune

That the elections held in our city have for many years past been vitiated by systematic and gigantic fraud in naturalizing, in voting and in canvassing the returns. If any one of [illegible] still doubt [illegible] let him ponder the following figures [illegible] because he wants [illegible] cheating [illegible]:

Wards	[illegible]	Population	[illegible]	Rep	Dem
II				60	[illegible]
III		5	18		6
IV	4	4	11	1	91
VI		1	44		1
VI	2	25	19		150
VI	10	8[illegible]0	934		884
VIII	1	11		5	460
VIII		111	[illegible]	1	14
VIII		4	6[illegible]5	1	[illegible]
XXI			2	1	[illegible]
XXI					[illegible]

The population of the city shows [illegible] preponderance of foreign [illegible]. This portion of it is still alien, in part because of recent immigration, in part because many Europeans who live here elect to remain British, German, French, Spanish or Italian rather than to become Americans. Here in our last State census was taken in 18[illegible] [illegible] per cent [illegible] but [illegible] or fairly one in six. [illegible] And so great is the [illegible] some from choice or indifference, others because [illegible] some sort, that it is scarcely possible that the legal voters should ever exceed one seventh of the population, which it will rarely, except in a Presidential election, amount to one ninth.

Yet here we see district after district which gave in May last at a Judicial election in which little popular interest was felt, a vote exceeding one third of its total population (as ascertained by the ninth census since taken) while two districts cast a vote exceeding one half of their population, and the District of the VIth Ward wherein the Commissioner Mat Brennan is the ruling Democrat actually polled 934 votes out of a total population of 8[illegible]0, or more than one to [illegible] each man, woman and child living in that district! Is any one astonished to find those 934 votes returned 884 Democratic to 50 Republican? Not any.

For years, our Republicans have fruitlessly struggled against this avalanche of fraud. Vainly have they increased their total vote from 17,771 in [illegible] to 33,290 in '60, 30,081 in '64 and 47,748 in '68. No party has honestly increased its vote faster in any county of our State than the Republican party has in this county, and yet the majority against us has been swelled from 2[illegible],063 in '60 to 37,018 in '64, 47,[illegible] in '68 and [illegible]. This is the [illegible] sufficient reason for this enormous increase of the Democratic vote and the Democratic majority.

From the New York Herald Sept 10. The little ship R[illegible], which is only a little over two tons burden, has just reached Boston from Queenstown after an eighty days' voyage. While we highly commend the ocean yacht races which have recently distinguished the annals of yachting as healthy and ennobling sport, we cannot but seriously deprecate the rash and foolhardy bravado that prompts such dangerous enterprises as this that has just been achieved by the crew of such a little cockleshell.

There is said to be a "corner" in the peanut market in Cincinnati. The crop was short last season and a Cincinnati firm has been buying up all the peanuts that could be had to make the "corner" and run up the article to a "giddy" point. The firm claims to have 300,000 bushels in store and the quantity still increasing.

SECURE A HOME!!

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS for Stock.

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made. The books were opened and a large number of shares have been taken.

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will give a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association, the location of the land, etc, etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association, of whose organization we gave notice but a few days since, is now ready [illegible] the [illegible] of shares. As it is, with one exception (the Portland Homestead Association), the pioneer organization of that kind in the city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co operation of many individual shareholders and the advance in values of all surrounding land by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of but still near the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Willamette river, half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them), the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles) and 30 fractional lots along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that a shareholder thus [illegible] receives nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 30 fractional lots. The 30 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association, shareholders coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it, the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales after deducting the original price of shares or lots to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or $500 premium (more or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property, the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen therefore that everything is co operative and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss, unless the property, by some chance, should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself, but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood and at East Portland and vicinity for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per share payable with the first instalment, being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full with the assessments as above, the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 90 feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of irrigation and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste foot from end to end in the entire tract. Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder if he choose may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest undivided with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads in the [illegible] East Portland is receiving thoroughly [illegible] discussed among all classes and the homestead [illegible] the Riverside [illegible] south of East Portland has already been established [illegible] shaped like the letter H [illegible] the river. [illegible] plateau which is elevated [illegible] forty [illegible] fifty feet above the river [illegible] had a fine view of Portland, East Portland, the adjoining and the Willamette [illegible] several miles. The land is very [illegible] light [illegible].—Bulletin.
